

August Extra 2020 etc

Fit solutions jigsaw-wise in the grid. The clues are given in alphabetical order of their solutions. Several answers form part of a broad theme and their clues lack thematic definition. Solvers must submit with their entry the thematic word that should appear reading downwards in the highlighted cells of the correctly filled grid.

If you haven't yet tried a 3D jigsaw crossword, or if you have tried and failed, this month's Extra offers an opportunity to break your duck. The jigsaw is amenable to a logical approach. The five letters already given will hopefully help; they can also be arranged to give a hint to the theme. We'll issue some further guidance at the end of August.

Only three of the six canonical directions are used in filling the grid. Each of the three long solutions contains a canonical direction (at the start, in the middle or at the end), which should be removed to leave a five-letter word (possibly out of alphabetical order), which should be entered in the given direction. These are the only directions used.				The six canonical directions		1 Curve about back (5)	2 One hundred on account (5)
